DAY 1 (DAY OF PROCEDURE)

Wash the treated area with regular soap and dry it with cotton pads within 2-3 hours after procedure to remove lymph and avoid thick scabs. Take antiviral medication after lip treatment.

DAY 2

Apply nothing for the first day after procedure. In case of large eye or lip swelling (2-3 days) apply Derm-Aid 0.5% and/or antihistamine medicine.

DAY 3+ UNTILL SCABS FULLY PEELED

Apply Vaseline oil with thin layers when dry or tightening sensation occurs (~3- 4 times a day). Avoid sauna, bath, swimming and direct sunlight. Don't touch or scratch the treated area, don't pick, remove or soak up scabs. Don't apply any wound healing or regenerating medicines or your own post-procedural care. Don't use decorative cosmetics before the scabs flake off naturally. Be ready to lose 20-50% of colour after scab peeling in 4-14 days after procedure. In the case of complications in healing, contact your technician and/or see your GP for medical advice.

6-8 WEEKS FROM DAY OF PROCEDURE

Don't attend any procedures such as early touch-up or some cosmetology procedures to avoid scarring. Be ready to see the pigment saturation of about 10-20% from initial pigmentation. Book your touch-up appointment in age+10 days after your initial session.

6 stages of Eyebrows healing

Day 1-2

I can't believe! This is my brows. They are nice but pretty dark.

Day 3-5

Oh... they become so dark and thick...

Day 6-8

Oh no! The crust is flaking off! And I see no color between crusts...

Day 8-12

My brows are so light and color looks little bit uneven! It did not work...

Day 14-25

My brows look so much better but still need some work.

Day 28-30

My brows look well. I like them! I shouldn't forget to get touch up.

6 stages of Eyeliner healing

Day 1

It is not so bad as I expected but really swollen...

Day 2-4 in the morning

Oh... I look as if I cried all night long...

Day 2-4 afternoon

I have very bright liners, I like them, pity that I can't use mascara.

Day 5-10

The crust is flaking off and there is something light. It did not work...

Day 10-25

I see the color, it is much better but still needs some work. It is pity that they won't be glossy black because the pigment is under the skin.

Day 28-30

My eyeliner look well and natural. At least I wake up beautiful. I should not forget to get touch up.

6 stages of Lips healing

Day 1

It is not so bad as I expected but too bright and swollen...

Day 2

Wow! I look as if I injected my lips. They look too bright but very sexy!

Day 3-4

The crust is always dry, it is annoying, I always feel it on my lips

Day 5-6

Thanks God the crust is flaking off inside but the contour is still with scabs. I see the color, it is strange and pale.

Day 7-25

Hurray! I have no scabs! The lips are soft and not bad. It is pity that color is mat and can't be glossy bright because the pigment is under the skin. The color is changing everyday little bit.

Day 28-30

My lips look well and natural. I wake up beautiful. I should not forget to get touch up.
